

MAR 16 1973

SFChronicle
San Francisco Chronicle ★

Fri., Mar. 16, 1973

AP Wirephoto

War Litter

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese prisoners shed their uniforms and dropped them on the ground as they were released Wednesday in Quang Tri. The Saigon government freed 1000 Communist prisoners of war on the southern bank of the Trach Han river. In the background, some of the prisoners are still being watched by South Vietnamese military policemen prior to their release.