

POWs Can Talk Soon

Washington

The Pentagon said yesterday that American prisoners of war will be free to talk about their experiences as soon as all are back on American soil, probably Monday.

Major General Daniel James said the 589 military and civilian prisoners will be able to discuss their treatment without restriction.

Associated Press

---