

AP Wirephoto

Sihanouk's Trip

Radio Hanoi said this is a photo taken of Prince Norodom Sihanouk (second from right), the deposed Cambodian leader, during a recent secret trip to the Communist-held area of Cambodia. Posing with him at a kilometer

marker on the Phnom Penh-Stung Treng highway, 525 kilometers from the Cambodian capital were: Princess Monique Sihanouk (left) and, on her left, Sihanouk's deputy prime minister, Khieu Samphon.

Cambodia War--Arms Aid Blamed

Washington

Defense Secretary Elliott L. Richardson yesterday blamed the war in Cambodia on continuing shipments of Chinese and Soviet supplies from North Vietnam.

He said the key to ending the conflict was to dry up these shipments, and the U.S. was negotiating toward that end. He declined, however, to discuss negotiations or to say whether direct ap-

Five Killed in Plane Crash

Stuttgart

A twin-engine aircraft crashed near Stuttgart's Echterdingen airport yesterday, killing five persons aboard, police said.

The victims were the West German plane's pilot and co-pilot and three businessmen, police said. Reuters proaches were being made to Moscow and Peking aimed at imposing an arms embargo.

Richardson spoke to newsmen following a morning of testimony on the Defense budget before the House

Armed Services Committee.

He said the picture in Cambodia was "somewhat improved," with supplies now getting through the Communist blockade around Phnom Penh.

He said there is no evidence that Cambodian insurgents and North Vietnamese guerrillas are massing for an attack on Phnom Penh, but their aim apparently is to "choke off supplies" into the Cambodian capital.

United Press