

Notes on People byline, Albin Krebs

●
Anthony J. Russo, a co-defendant with Daniel Ellsberg on charges of having leaked the Pentagon papers to the press, pleaded guilty in Los Angeles to charges of reckless driving and disturbing the peace. He was fined $150. A Municipal Court judge dismissed additional charge of drunken driving and resisting an officer.
●