

Times Reporter Arraigned

SAN JOSE, Calif., March 20 (AP)—Earl Caldwell, New York Times reporter, was arraigned in Municipal Court Monday on a charge of possessing marijuana. Judge William Harris set Friday for the entry of a plea by Mr. Caldwell. Sheriff's deputies alleged that Mr. Caldwell had marijuana in a film canister when he submitted to a search March 6 at the Angela Davis trial.