Big CIA Fee For Files on Rosenbergs

Washington

The Central Intelligence Agency yesterday made 953 pages of its files on the investigation of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg available to the two sons of the executed spies — with a price tag of $14 155 20 of $14,155.30.

This was the second batch of government records to be offered with a big price tag to Michael and Robert Meeropol, sons of the couple electrocuted in 1953.

The FBI Monday offered 29,900 pages of its files on the Rosenberg case but told the Meeropols, who have assumed the name of their adoptive parents, that they must pay a $23,451.80 fee to cover costs.

The Meeropols won a court decision that they were entitled to the government documents under the Freedom of Information Act.
The act authorizes government agencies to charge search and copying fees.
