

Brothers Behind Bars

UPI Telephoto

Fists clenched in a gesture of solidarity, 283 inmates at the Colorado State Penitentiary were transferred yesterday from a medium security facility to the main prison building. Officials made the move as a strike by more than 1000 inmates at the Canon City facility entered its fourth day. The prisoners are demanding better food, more pay for prison work and time off for good behavior.