Helms Denies C.I.A. Sets Policy, Wins Approval of Senate Panel

WASHINGTON, June the new Director of Central In-telligence stepped out of the sions overseas are, by Presi-official shadows briefly today to disclaim any policymaking of the ambassadors and cannot role for the Central Intelligence go off on their own. Agency.

Richard M. Helms, named by Helms said. resident Johnson Saturday to Rebuff by Raborn President Johnson Saturday to succeed William F. Raborn as director of the agency, received part from Mr. Raborn's refusal a friendly reception from the to answer some questions put to Senate Armed Services Com- him by Senator J. W. Fulbright,

Approval Needed

Approval Needed Sitting at the end of a long table, Mr. Helms said, "There is never any effort to influence the President's decision one way or the other" on foreign policy. He said "the C.I.A. takes no action without the appropriate 'of₇ ficials of the U.S. Government and they are not in the C.I.A." Mr. Helms pictured the agency as being under the close supervision of the National Se-curity Council, headed by the degree of professionalism and President, and with a budget competence" within the agency.

23 that is gone over line by line (AP)-The man chosen to be by the Budget Bureau.

"This is quite clear," Mr.

The present dispute stems in Senate Armed Services Com-mittee. His nomination was approved by the committee after a series of questions relating to the dis-pute over the Senate's C.I.A. in a letter to Mr. Fulbright last week said the only questions he had declined to answer dealt with sources and methods, not "substantive intelligence infor-mation." However, the Foreign Rela-tions Committee contends that the C.I.A. activities have an impact on foreign policy and has approved a resolutor that would put three of its members on Senator Russell's C.I.A. sub-committee. The subcommittee is now limited to senior members of the Armed Services and Ap-propriations Committees. Approval Needed ident. "That is my intention," Mr.