Francis Gary Powers when he was filling in as a flying traffic reporter for a radio station in Los Angeles.

Francis Gary Powers, the former U-2 spy pilot, is out of work again. Mr. Powers, who was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960 and spent some time in prison there before he was exchanged for a Russian spy caught here, had a job recently flying a light plane for a Los Angeles radio station, sending down on-the-air reports of freeway traffic. But that job ended, and Mr. Powers is advertising in Broadcasting magazine, offering his vast flight experience to "untangle tricky traffic problems in your city."

Senator Harold Hughes of Iowa, since he has removed himself from the Democratic Presidential campaign, would temporarily head the party's ticket.
