Glomar Anchors Off West End of Catalina Island

AVALON, Calif., Aug. 23 (UPI)—The Glomar Explorer anchored off the west end of Catalina Island this morning after a two-day disappearing act.

act. It was not known how long the ship will stay anchored in an isthmus 26 miles southwest of its home port of Long Beach or why it is there. The ship was used by the CIA last year to raise part of a Soviet submarine in the North Pacific. The govern. Ment earlier this week acknowledged ownership of the ship, which was designed for the Summa Corp., owned by recluse billionaire Howard Hughes.
