

SF Examiner JAN 13 1974
Wiretap ruling

WASHINGTON —A federal judge ruled Friday that the government must disclose the nature and extent of wiretaps and other electronic surveillance of several anti-war leaders and groups.

The decision came in a civil suit filed under terms of the Omnibus Crime Act of 1968, which provides payment of $100 to persons subjected to illegal wiretapping.