Four Returned to Jail

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—Four members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War who had refused to answer a Federal grand jury's questions about alleged plans for violence at political conventions were ordered back to jail today.

United States District Court Judge David L. Middlebrooks signed orders returning them to jail for contempt until they answered the questions or the grand jury term ended.

The four were Wayne Beverly of Austin, Tex.; John Chambers of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Jack Jennings and Bruce Horton both of Gainesville.

The jury began its session in January and could be in session for 18 months, but the normal procedure is for a new Federal grand jury to be seated each January.
