

7 Sep 72

Ehrlichman is quoted by Reston (who gives no details about where Ehrlichman made these remarks, or the reason for them) as having said today: "After the history of this first term is written and you look back, you're going to see that, compared to other Administrations or by any other standards you'd want to apply, that it has been an extraordinarily clean, corruption-free Administration, because the President insists on that."

NYT 9 Aug 74, p. 33, James Reston