

News Summary and Index

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1974

The Major Events of the Day

International

The 13-nation energy conference in Washington failed to reach agreement because of a sharp dispute between France and her Common Market allies on how to respond to the American call for joint efforts by oil consuming and producing countries to deal with the energy crisis. The delegates decided to extend the conference for a day in an effort to resolve the dispute. [1:8.]

Premier Carlos Arias Navarro promised Spaniards wider and freer participation in government and union affairs than they have known in the 35-years since the civil war. He announced that mayors and heads of provincial assemblies, formerly appointed, would now be elected. To make Parliament more independent, he said, holders of Government jobs will be eliminated from serving as members of Parliament. [1:4.]

Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn, the dissident Soviet writer who won the Nobel Prize for literature, was forcibly arrested in his Moscow apartment by a team of Soviet police agents. Several hours later, his family was informed by the authorities that the 55-year-old writer had been formally arrested. The charges were not disclosed. [1:1.]

Before his arrest, Mr. Solzhenitsyn gave to The New York Times a 1968 section of his vast study of the Soviet penal system, which contends that even in recent years it has been impossible to get a fair trial in cases involving state or ideological interests of Soviet leaders. The excerpt was written in 1968 and had not been released for publication along with earlier sections of the book, "The Gulag Archipelago: 1918-1956," dealing mainly with the Stalinist period up to 1956. [1:2-3.] Excerpts, Page 12.

National

The Gulf Oil Corporation, the nation's fourth largest oil company, announced operating results for 1973 that indicated a 153 per cent gain in its fourth-quarter earnings. Net income for the full year climbed to $800-million, ending a four-year slide in profitability. [1:7.]

The General Accounting Office has found no evidence of excessive profits for grain companies in the big wheat sales to Russia in 1972, but those deals did give the concerns "opportunities to make unusual profits"

The Other News

to be issued today. The report said that the Soviet Union got a better deal than previously reported because the grain companies made their contracts at prices below the "target" that the United States was attempting to maintain with subsidies. [1:5.]

The Symbionese Liberation Army in Berkeley, Calif., asked Randolph A. Hearst, the newspaper executive, for more than $230-million in free food for the poor as evidence of good faith in negotiating the release of his kidnapped daughter, Patricia. [1:5-7.]

On the 165th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, President Nixon placed a wreath at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington and, in a speech that seemed to draw comparison to his own ordeal, said that the Civil War leader, despite vilification, had the character to "stand tall and strong and firm no matter how harsh or unfair the criticism might be." [1:1-3.]

Metropolitan

Consolidated Edison announced that its average residential customer would pay $2.23, more this month, or 12.7 per cent more than in January, for the same amount of electricity because of sharply increased costs of the oil the utility burned. [1:6-7.]

Governor Wilson said he would meet today in Washington with William E. Simon, administrator of the Federal Energy Office, to seek more gasoline for New York. [1:6-7.]

Under sharp attack by Governor Byrne, commissioners of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey agreed to consider tomorrow whether to withdraw a request for an increase in PATH tube train fares to 50 cents from 30 cents. [3:6.]

Howard J. Samuels, who has been unofficially running for Governor of New York since the last gubernatorial election, made his candidacy for the Democratic nomination official. He said that he would aim his campaign at the records of former Governor Rockefeller and Governor Wilson. [1:8.]

Rafael Kubelick, the first music director in the Metropolitan Opera's history, resigned, effective immediately, but will fulfill his conducting assignments for the remainder of the season. A question that quickly arose when the announcement was made by the Metropolitan was: Where does this leave Mr. Kubelick's superior, Schuyler G. Chapin, the

The Other News

International

West German service workers extend strike. Page 2
British miners reject industrialists' offer. Page 2
British party chiefs get election show on road. Page 3
Cyrus Eaton sees early U.S.-Cuba ties possible. Page 5
Four Arab leaders to meet today in Algiers. Page 6
Iraq asks U.N. meeting on border clashes. Page 7
Israelis end 3d stage of bridge-head withdrawal. Page 7
Cambodia struggles to recover from shelling. Page 8
Savage fighting reported in the Philippines. Page 9
Writers call for Solzhenitsyn's release. Page 13
German says European split is deep. Page 28

Government and Politics
Wilson hires two more public relations men. Page 15
U.S. jury studies vote-siphoning case. Page 15
September primary bill is signed by Wilson. Page 17
Black caucus held more sophisticated. Page 18
Nixon's subpoena finally arrives in capital. Page 20
Study finds $24-million awaiting candidates. Page 21
I.R.S. to yield phone-call records of Times. Page 25

Energy
Simon bars discrimination in gasoline sales. Page 28
Ash calls energy crisis "one time" phenomenon. Page 29
One city "gas" station "serving everybody." Page 29
Spindletop to Kuwait: Gulf Oil's odyssey. Page 53
Pan Am head scores allocation of fuel. Page 53

General
Indians on Coast upheld on fishing rights. Page 14
Wounded knee trial opens in St. Paul. Page 14
Panther official was paid F.B.I. informer. Page 18
Man held in Richmond in mosque shooting. Page 18
San Clemente fears for safety of Nixon bust. Page 20
Agency is accused of bias

Health and Science
Consumer agency criticizes publishers on ads. Page 24
Benefit of exercise to heart patients debated. Page 10
Ships dock at giant Antarctic ice cube. Page 11
Pollution imperils famed Italian pine groves. Page 35

Amusements and the Arts
New novel by James Hanley is reviewed. Page 43
Maazel leads fine Cleveland Orchestra concert. Page 46
"Mahagonny" staged by Yale Repertory. Page 51
Concert marks a Gertrude Stein anniversary. Page 51
TV "Morning After" studies alcoholics. Page 67

Going Out Guide Page 48
About New York Page 46
Family/Style
Midriff-baring may be big on fashion scene. Page 44
"Watergate wife" considers the future. Page 44
Nonsensical films for children are on view. Page 44

Obituaries
Anna Nilsson, Swedish-born film actress. Page 38

Business and Financial
Stock prices are mixed in slow trading. Page 53
Ford earnings tumbled 76% in final quarter. Page 53
Gold is steady in London trading. Page 53
Net up 14% in 1973 at General Tel. Page 53
Penn Central seeks Federal assistance. Page 53
Corporate bond prices up in slow trading. Page 53
Futures prices of silver coins spurt. Page 60

Advertising News	61	Market Averages	54
Amer. Exchange	59	Market Place	54
Bond Sale	58	Money	58
Business Briefs	57	Mutual Funds	58
Commodities	60	N.Y. Stock Exch.	58
Dividends	58	Out-of-Town	58

Quotation of the Day

"A recession is kind of like a bad cold. You don't know when you get it and when it ends, but when you've got it, you know you've got it."—Roy L. Ash, director of Office of Management and Budget. [29:8.]

Sports

Harelson and Koonsman sign Met contracts. Page 30
3 A's pitchers and Finley at arbitration hearing. Page 30
People in Sports: Frazier wants title shot. Page 30
California entry named best doberman here. Page 31
Rash of injuries has N.B.A. hurting all over. Page 31
Garden State opens with upset in feature race. Page 31
Secretariat, Riva Ridge given the "go-ahead." Page 31
Energy crisis every day for Vickie Seiler. Page 32
Follmer at 40 takes a whiff at stock car. Page 42

Notes on People Page 45
Editorials and Comment
Editorials and Letters. Page 36
James Reston views oil consumers parley. Page 37
C. L. Sulzberger on detente and dissidence. Page 37
Gene Lyons: The Old South shows its colors. Page 37
Ben Meyer on getting the signal from Cuba. Page 37

News Analysis
Philip Shabecoff on truckers negotiations. Page 27
Harold C. Schonberg on Kubelick resignation. Page 48
Leonard Silk on Kissinger's economics. Page 53
Gerald Gold assesses phone service "reforms." Page 62

CORRECTION

An article in yesterday's issue of The New York Times erroneously described Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth as the only daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt. The President had two daughters: Mrs. Longworth, by his first marriage, and Mrs. Ethel Roosevelt Derby, who lives in Oyster Bay, L. I., by