

The Major Events of the Day

International
 Government troops abandoned South Vietnam's third largest city, Qui Nhon, amid indications that the North Vietnamese were pouring through most of the country without having to do much fighting. As the Communists pressed closer to Saigon, Western diplomats voiced dismay at the Government's relative silence. The American establishment in the capital was also showing some disarray, with officials saying privately that the embassy had failed to comprehend the gravity of the situation. Qui Nhon fell, according to military sources, in much the same way as Danang—handed to the North Vietnamese with scant fighting, panic, and a mass exodus of civilians and deserters. [Page 1 Columns 5-8.]

Despite an official American denial that the United States Embassy has begun evacuating personnel, Americans are streaming out of Vietnam. Airlines reported departing flights fully booked. Other Americans appeared to be leaving their normal lives. Many seemed either unable to grasp the collapse of the South Vietnamese Army or simply unconcerned. Some senior officials were said to be deeply alarmed at the rout and aware that Saigon itself might not last much longer. [1:5.]

Opposition to President Nguyen Van Thieu has become widespread and vocal as the impression has grown that he no longer controls the people of South Vietnam, or even the Government and armed forces. A South Vietnamese official reported hearing a broadcast from the northern city of Da Nang, occupied by the North Vietnamese Army on Sunday, announcing that it was being governed by a coalition rather than the Vietcong. The chief flag flown was said to be that of the National Force of Reconciliation and Concord, a Saigon Buddhist group. There was speculation that the Communists may plan such a coalition for Saigon. [1:7-4.]

Marshal Lon Nol's five-year rule came to a virtual end as the left Phnom Penh's airport under rocket attack on his way to Indonesia. He left to his friends and supporters the task of trying to use his departure to obtain new aid from the United States or for negotiations with the insurgents. [1:6-7.]

National
 The trial of John B. Connally on charges that as Secretary of the Treasury in 1971 he

The Other News

International
 U.S. issues confusing reports on peace efforts. Page 1
 Argentina debating whether to build H-bomb. Page 2
 Egypt formally asks renewal of Geneva talks. Page 3
 Kissinger asks group for negotiating ideas. Page 3
 Analysts see little danger of new Korean war. Page 3
 Vatican hints at size of world investments. Page 3
 American plans to fly 1,500 orphans. Page 9
 Only the wealthy get out of Phnom Penh. Page 15
 U.S. supply airlift to Saigon begins. Page 16
 Agencies move to provide aid to refugees. Page 17

Government and Politics
 Informants widely used by Government. Page 4
 Mayor Daley easy victor in Chicago race. Page 7
 Governors plan to fight Ford on energy. Page 13

Metropolitan
 The New York State Court of Appeals reinstated five perjury charges against Ross J. LIDorenzo, a retired Civil Court judge, that had been brought by Maurice H. Nadlart, the special anticorruption prosecutor. The 5-to-2 decision reversed a ruling of a lower court that a new trial on those counts would violate the Federal Constitutional ban on double jeopardy. The new decision by the state's highest court held that the five charges differed substantially from the two counts on which Mr. Ross was acquitted last July in State Supreme Court. [1:4.]

A Federal grand jury indicted Irving Goldman of conspiring to defraud the Transit Authority, the Interborough News Company and the United States Government by filing false corporate income tax returns from 1971 to 1973. Mr. Goldman is on leave from his $1-a-year post as Cultural Affairs Commissioner of New York City following a similar indictment by a state grand jury. [1:3.]

The United States Environmental Protection Agency charged the Consolidated Edison Company with violating state and Federal standards for visible smoke emission in seven of its 11 major power plants in the city. It was the first such action taken in the state by the Federal government under powers granted in the Clean Air Act of 1970. Agency spokesmen said that smoke from the two worst offenders was twice as opaque as the allowable limit under the regulations now in effect. [1:2.]

Quotation of the Day

It won't have an adverse effect.—John Gunther
 L'n, United States Ambassador to Cambodia, when asked about President Lon Nol's departure. [1:5.]

Health and Science

Catholic TV station aids elementary schools. Page 34
 Larger higher-education board proposed for city. Page 35

Amusements and the Arts
 Marilyn Home brings warmth to Carnegie. Page 22
 Contemporary Music Group gives concert. Page 24
 New play by Rochelle Owens staged. Page 25
 Biography of Edmund Randolph is reviewed. Page 37
 "School for Scandal" in fine TV production. Page 63

Family/Style
 Pastry and meat recipes from an English cook. Page 44
 A teen-agers' party has mid-dle-age nostalgia. Page 44
 A new line of wines will arrive from California. Page 45

Consumer Notes Page 20
Obituaries
 W. Walton Butterworth, envoy to Canada. Page 42
 Dave Morris Jr. of Bank of New York. Page 42
 Poppy Cannon White, author-ity on food. Page 42
 Gertrude Nielsen, sultry singer of 30's. Page 42

Business and Financial
 Stock market shows a broad decline. Page 47
 Treasury coupons drop to lowest price of 1975. Page 47
 Inventory growth slowed in February. Page 47
 Auto output continues to lag '74 levels. Page 47
 Levitz Furniture reports deficit in quarter. Page 47
 People and Business: Pay cuts impossible possible. Page 34

Going Out Guide

About New York Page 27
Family/Style Page 44
Consumer Notes Page 20
Obituaries Page 42
Business and Financial Page 47
Education and Welfare Page 34

Health and Science
 Earth satellite to monitor ozone layer. Page 6
 H.E.W. study criticizes nursing homes. Page 19
 Nuclear plant cooling towers stir criticism. Page 32

Amusements and the Arts
 Marilyn Home brings warmth to Carnegie. Page 22
 Contemporary Music Group gives concert. Page 24
 New play by Rochelle Owens staged. Page 25
 Biography of Edmund Randolph is reviewed. Page 37
 "School for Scandal" in fine TV production. Page 63

Family/Style
 Pastry and meat recipes from an English cook. Page 44
 A teen-agers' party has middle-age nostalgia. Page 44
 A new line of wines will arrive from California. Page 45

Consumer Notes Page 20
Obituaries
 W. Walton Butterworth, envoy to Canada. Page 42
 Dave Morris Jr. of Bank of New York. Page 42
 Poppy Cannon White, authority on food. Page 42
 Gertrude Nielsen, sultry singer of 30's. Page 42

Notes on People

Editorials and Comment
 Editorials and Letters. Page 38
 James Reston views case against pessimism. Page 39
 C. L. Sulzberger: Russia and the U.S. in Iraq. Page 39
 Bruce Herschensohn on plan to shift the U.S.I.A. Page 39
 Harrison Goldin explains New York fiscal straits. Page 39

News Analysis
 Drew Middleton analyzes military situation. Page 16
 Leonard Silk on wariness of the right. Page 47

Sports
 People in Sports: Erving hurts but he's ready. Page 28
 Mrs. Gunter upset at start of title tennis. Page 28
 Hunter in 7 strong innings, but Yanks lose. Page 29
 4 Met hurlers yield 19 hits as Reds win, 8-2. Page 29
 Vall of Flames sets sights on Calder Trophy. Page 29
 Early anglers rewarded as trout season opens. Page 29
 Gianelli feels he's wanted more by Knicks. Page 29
 Wooden's legacy: Finesse still wins in basketball. Page 29
 Velasquez rides 4 winners, upstaging Cordero. Page 30
 Jets sign Wood of U.S.C., but wait on Davis. Page 31

Business and Financial
 Stock market shows a broad decline. Page 47
 Treasury coupons drop to lowest price of 1975. Page 47
 Inventory growth slowed in February. Page 47
 Auto output continues to lag '74 levels. Page 47
 Levitz Furniture reports deficit in quarter. Page 47
 People and Business: Pay cuts impossible possible. Page 34

Education and Welfare
 College readiness plan makes impossible possible. Page 34

CORRECTION

An article in some editions of The New York Times Monday reported incorrectly that alternate side-of-the-street parking regulations would be suspended yesterday and today because of the Passover holiday. The regulations have been suspended for today and tomorrow.