

The Major Events of the Day

International

President Ford has dismissed Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger and William E. Colby, Director of Central Intelligence, in a major shuffling of top national security posts. Administration officials said yesterday that Mr. Ford had also asked Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to relinquish his post as "national security adviser" in the White House but to stay on as head of the State Department and that Mr. Kissinger had all but agreed. White House officials said that Mr. Schlesinger would probably be replaced by Donald H. Rumsfeld, the White House chief of staff, and that Mr. Colby's likely successor would be George Bush, now head of the American liaison office in China. [Page 1, Column 8.]

President Ford went to Jacksonville, Fla., for three hours of talks with President Anwar el-Sadat of Egypt who is taking a four-day sojourn there during his trip to the United States. The conversations, officials said, focused on Lebanon, the Middle East in general and mutual concerns of the United States and Egypt. [1:7.]

Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, Spain's Acting Chief of State, flew to Spanish Sahara with a promise to protect the "legitimate rights" of its inhabitants and the "honor and prestige" of the army. He wore a general's uniform. His trip, sudden and unexpected, signified a stiffening of Spain's resistance toward Morocco's claims to the territory. [1:4-6.]

With the threat of war in Spanish Sahara, the United Nations Security Council urged all parties in the dispute to avoid any action that "might further escalate the tension in the area." Council members said privately that what was envisioned was a United Nations presence in Spanish Sahara to help administer the territory until its future was settled. [3:4-8.]

The religious treasury of Cologne Cathedral was robbed of precious stones and gold and silver possibly worth millions of dollars by thieves who climbed the outside scaffolding used by masons who have been clearing the cathedral's ancient stonework for most of the last year. The thieves, equipped with mountaineering gear, fled when they dropped a monstrosity and woke a night watchman. [1:1-3.]

National

President Ford and the Department of Justice are making efforts to keep details of United States involvement in assassination plots against foreign leaders from being made public by either the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence or in a Washington court case in which Government documents are being sought under the Freedom of Information Act by a private research group. A spokesman for the Senate committee said that each member had received a "strongly worded" letter signed by President Ford urging the members for national security reasons not to make public a forthcoming report on the Central Intelligence Agency's involvement in assassination plots. Senator Frank Church, the committee's chairman, has refused to comply with the President's request. [1:2-3.]

Metropolitan

The final flurry of weekend efforts to stir interest in New York's off-year election tomorrow was completed, most of the activity keyed to the proposals that dominate the ballots—whether the state should pass a women's rights amendment to its Constitution and whether the city should pass a package of amendments to its Charter. The New York Coalition for Equal Rights, supporter of the state amendment, promised "the most massive street campaign in New York City's history," starting at 11 A.M. today in Bryant Park. [1:1.]

The crisis that has brought New York to the brink of bankruptcy is deeply affecting its cultural institutions and their public services. Within the last year, the budgets of members of the Cultural Institutions Group, comprising 18 of the 26 institutions that get substantial financing from the city, have been cut by an average of 10 per cent. A further cut of 8.5 per cent, due Friday, could force many institutions to close. [1:2.]

In recent weeks, as severance pay and unemployment have run out, as garbage collections have been reduced sharply and as fewer policemen are seen on the streets, the cuts in city expenditures are beginning to be felt more deeply by New Yorkers, diminishing the quality of life in the city. What the city's budget cuts mean to some New Yorkers is described. [1:3.]

The Other News

International

Beirut calmer under new truce. Page 2
 Few decisions seen at talks in France. Page 3
 Site of India-China clash disclosed. Page 4
 Americans sit out captivity in Ethiopia. Page 5
 U.S. to tell I.L.O. it plans to quit. Page 6
 Ford's arms aid plan exceeds Congressional goals. Page 7
 Rabin accuses U.S. of reneging on aid. Page 12
 Power brokers wield vast influence in U.N. Page 35
 Pasolini found bludgeoned to death near Rome. Page 38

Government and Politics

Voters registration by mail is to start Dec. 1. Page 15
 Alioto's successor to inherit strike controversy. Page 16
 Latinos announce creation of a national caucus. Page 18
 Mississippi faces a close race for Governor. Page 19
 Edwards re-elected handily in Louisiana. Page 20
 Hays asks delay on campaign law changes. Page 24
 Jimmy Carter gains in New England. Page 25
 Humphrey emphatically refuses to run. Page 26
 Race for mayor in Boston turns bitter. Page 26
 Kennedy proposes overhaul of F.D.A. Page 28
 Yonkers prospects to avert default brighten. Page 41
 G.A.O. scores Ford's nuclear fuel plan. Page 46
 Bar association lists ratings of candidates. Page 55
 Candidates are listed in election. Page 55

General

Plan to end hospital-employee meals rejected. Page 35
 City workers still jobless after 5 months. Page 35
 Metropolitan Briefs. Page 39
 An air of uncertainty pervades Coney Island. Page 39
 Model boat enthusiast slain in park. Page 39
 Golf club is key clue in Greenwich playing. Page 39
 Two laws aimed at cleaning up Times Square. Page 42

Quotation of the Day

"No human life should be put in danger when just and disinterested solutions are offered and when cooperation and understanding are sought among peoples."
 —Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, Acting Chief of State, referring to the situation in Spanish Sahara. [23:1.]

Amtrak restores Lake Shore Limited.

Page 64
 Probation given in burning of newspaper plant. Page 64

Education and Welfare

Students flock to job-related courses. Page 1
 H.E.W. head declines to see women's groups. Page 30

Health and Science

Sterile insects used to fight fruit flies on Coast. Page 31
 Clean air amendment may set off dispute. Page 43
 Scientist recasts theory on trapping sun's rays. Page 46
 Ford tests potential 'engine of future.' Page 46

Amusements and the Arts

New novel by Donald Barthelme reviewed. Page 33
 Michael Cannon plays benefit piano recital. Page 47
 Souzaay tops weekend of French music. Page 47
 Yale Repertory stages Motilene's "Don Juan." Page 48
 Tennessee Williams publishing his "Memoirs." Page 49
 Sets by Gorey spice Egglewsky "Swan Lake." Page 49

Going Out Guide

Page 49
 About New York Page 45
 Family/Style Page 45
 Horse-owning children of the not-so-rich. Page 44
 Dressing up, eating sweets for Dival. Page 44
 De Gustibus: Advice on left-over egg yolk. Page 44

Obituaries

Doro Merandee, comic character actress. Page 38
 Phillip James, composer and conductor. Page 38

Business and Financial

Hills favors coordination among agencies. Page 57

Betty Friedan says women need allies. Page 57
 Wall Street turns to high-stakes tenders. Page 57
 Venezuela needs oil-refining technology. Page 57
 Analysts ponder Fed's monetary easing. Page 57
 Personal Finance: Disability-income insurance. Page 57
 Retailers anticipate a happy Christmas. Page 57
 Profit pace rose during third quarter. Page 57
 Brookings studies wage-price controls. Page 58

Advertising News 56
 Dividends ..... 56
 Mutual Funds ..... 59
 Personal Finance 57

Sports

California takes giant step toward Rose Bowl. Page 50
 Far Rockaway wins division title in Queens. Page 50
 Gambling jets lose, 24-23, to Bills. Page 51
 Jets' pivotal 4th-down call is 2d-guessed. Page 51
 Steelers post 30-24 triumph over Bengals. Page 51
 Nets pass more and set back Stars, 123-111. Page 51
 Giacomini returns with Wings to face Rangers. Page 51
 Olker beats Ashe in final of Paris tennis. Page 52
 Nicklaus takes Australian golf by 3 shots. Page 52
 Once lowly Oilers share divison lead. Page 53

Editorials and Comment

Editorials and Letters. Page 34
 Editorials and Letters. Page 36
 Anthony Lewis: Ford stance on N.Y.C. crisis. Page 35
 William Safire: Wisdom of arms aid to Egypt. Page 35
 Jeffrey St. John: Legislative abuse of power. Page 35
 Abba Eban: The United Nations and Zionism. Page 35

News Analysis

Flora Lewis on Spain and the Communists. Page 22
 Linda Greenhouse: Ford effect on state G.O.P. Page 40