

News Summary and Index

NYTimes

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1975 NOV 25 1975

The Major Events of the Day

International

Secretary of State Kissinger, apparently reflecting growing Administration concern, warned yesterday that "the United States cannot remain indifferent" to Soviet and Cuban military intervention in Angola's civil war and said that this could have consequences for East-West détente. In a speech prepared for delivery before the Economic Club of Detroit, Mr. Kissinger urged the Soviet Union particularly to exercise restraint. [Page 1, Column 8.]

President Ford according to the White House press secretary, expressed "complete confidence" in Daniel P. Moynihan, the controversial United States delegate at the United Nations, who had been planning to resign because of what he regarded as insufficient support from the State Department. Mr. Moynihan had a 40-minute meeting with Mr. Ford at the White House and apparently told the President that he would remain at his post, at least for the time being. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was present briefly at the meeting. Several Administration officials said that Mr. Kissinger had been displeased with Mr. Moynihan's independence and passionate oratory at the United Nations and that the State Department consequently had not supported Mr. Moynihan. [1:1.]

National

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland and five of his friends and political supporters were indicted by a Federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud, bribery and "a pattern of racketeering activity." Mr. Mandel, who is serving his second term as Governor, and one other defendant, were also accused of falsifying their Federal income tax returns. The indictment charged that the Governor and the others had engaged since 1969 in "corrupt practices, fraud and deception" to enrich themselves. Mr. Mandel said that he would prove his innocence, and would not resign. [1:6-7.]

Despite its $5.7 billion investment, the Defense Department is planning to shut down the safeguard anti-ballistic missile system, which academic and Congressional critics said would never work. The department has yet to announce its decision to place the only ABM station that had been established, in Grand Fork, N.D., on a standby status or even to give a reason for it, even though Congress voted to dismantle

The Other News

International

Beirut slipping deeper into degradation. Page 1
The Lebanese crisis intensifies. Page 2

the installation. It is believed that the Pentagon may be reluctant to make an official announcement that could be interpreted as a vindication of the system's critics. [1:1-4.]
The family and friends of President Kennedy have abandoned plans, begun soon after his assassination, to build his memorial library of Presidential papers near Harvard University in Cambridge and have chosen a site in Boston. Instead of the Harvard Square area, where community opposition to the library developed, the archives and museum will be on the new campus of the University of Massachusetts in the Dorchester section of Boston. [1:2-3.]

Metropolitan

The Chancellor, the deputy chancellor and the presidents of the colleges that make up the City University and its faculty called for the state to take over the university's system's financing and management rather than have the university face additional cuts in an already reduced budget. [1:5.]
A 17-hour insurrection at the House of Detention for Men on Rikers Island ended yesterday afternoon with the release of the last of five guards whom prisoners had held hostage but had not harmed. The revolt, involving nearly all the 1,816 prisoners, was settled with promises of amnesty for the rebels, including no prosecutions for damage, which was estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. [1:6-7.]

In a special message to the Legislature that seemed to withhold any concessions to the Black and Puerto Rican Caucus, Governor Carey said that the future of New York City was "too vital to be held hostage" and that the alternative to the prompt passage of the $200 million tax package was "bankruptcy for the City of New York and the frightful aftermath that will attend it." The 14 members of the caucus, all Democrats, have blocked passage of the tax bill until their demands are met for minority representation on the city's Emergency Control Board, limitations on welfare cuts and a generally wider participation in running the city's fiscal affairs. [1:4.]

New York held a rally in Times Square to show that despite its fiscal condition, its people stood united against Gerald Ford, but relatively few New Yorkers — estimates ranged from 5,000 to 15,000—showed up. Mayor Beame was there, but Governor Carey, who called for the rally, was not. [1:4-7.]

Quotation of the Day

"Time is running out; continuation of an interventionist policy must inevitably threaten other relations." —Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger warning on Soviet policy of intervention in Angola. [1:8.]

Amusements and the Arts

"Making of the Modern Family" is reviewed. Page 41
Kraber plays Mozart's flute quartets. Page 42
City failed to make mark with Deutsch Oper. Page 42
"The Show-Off" is staged in New Haven. Page 43
Leather dealer is unsung link to "Flute." Page 44
Ingrid Diefelder performs on the flute. Page 45

Going Out Guide

Family/Style
Tunics are showing up everywhere these days. Page 32
Ideal patients are found at doll hospital. Page 33

Obituaries

Dr. Henry Heald, headed Ford Foundation. Page 38
Dale Houghton, expert in marketing. Page 38

Business and Financial

Stocks end slide, Dow advancing by 4.88. Page 51
Slower advance is forecast for economy. Page 51
Some import duties ended for poorer lands. Page 51
Needham assails S.E.C. on central market. Page 51
Colt offer raised to $35 in Garlock talks. Page 51
Oil price rise effects over-study finds. Page 51
Sugar drop found not reaching consumers. Page 51
Dry weather plagues Soviet grain crop. Page 51
Castle & Cooke admits gifts abroad. Page 51

Industry and Labor

Massachusetts labor voids antibusing stand. Page 12
U.S. files suit on drug-price ad curbs. Page 59
Striking elevator repairmen resume talks. Page 67

Education and Welfare

State starts new drive against welfare cheats. Page 26
Columbia faculty votes to admit women. Page 27

Sports

Texas, El Paso, team victor in N.C.A.A. run. Page 46
Japan's golfers defeat U.S. by 42 strokes. Page 46

A.B.A. applies for 50 dates at Garden. Page 47
A.B.A. players sue to block merger with N.B.A. Page 47
Susan's Girl ends racing career with a third. Page 47
Arnsperger's job site despite Giants' plight. Page 47
Twins give Mauch 3-year pact as new manager. Page 47
Jets' secondary continues to agonize fans. Page 47
Penn State wins 5th straight Lambert Trophy. Page 48
Solomon, Gottfried in final in South Africa. Page 49
Rangers to meet old pals on Bruins' team next. Page 49

Notes on People Page 65
Editorials and Comment
Editorials and Letters. Page 36
Tom Wicker assays Blackmun's press ruling. Page 37
Russell Baker finds Cerberus in Motor Vehicles. Page 37
A. H. Raskin on Western work reform efforts. Page 37
Jonathan Rosner: 3½ days a month for family. Page 37

News Analysis
Lesley Oelster on successor to Douglas. Page 17

CORRECTIONS

In an article on Ralph Nader in The New York Times yesterday, the name of the director of Congress Watch, a Nader project, was given incorrectly. Her name is Joan Claybrook.

A listing of the City Council roll call vote on a resolution for additional taxes that appeared yesterday, incorrectly listed Councilman Archie Spigner of Queens as supporting the resolution and Councilman Theodore S. Weiss as opposing it. Mr. Spigner voted against the measure and Mr. Weiss voted for it.