

The Bugged Phone?

Photo released by the Democratic National Committee yesterday shows the interior of a telephone on the desk of Spencer Oliver, a party official. The black object encircled, according to the source, is device found when phone company officials examined the instrument at the request of Oliver's office. All information has been turned over to the FBI.

—UPI Photo