

transcribed from tape

Daniel Schorr: The Watergate trial, limited to the break-in and wiretapping, not touching on who gave the orders and the money, has now been postponed until January.

And Attorney General Richard Kleindienst said he plans no action on the sabotage charges because he has "no credible evidence." [See 25 Oct 72, SFChronicle from Washington Post Service.]