TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1973

Watergate Judge Is Called Firm and Nonpartisan

By JACK ROSENTHAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 Early this afternoon after four more defendants had pleaded guilty and the "Watergate seven" had diminshed to the "Watergate two," one of the trial spectators turned to a companion and cracked: "This judge will have a trial even there are no defendents left." there are no defendants left."

Hyperbole notwithstanding, the remark offered a clue to the no-nonsense nature of John J. Sirica, the Federal Judge presiding over the temperstuous case involving the break-in and bugging of the Democratic national headquarters last June.

The portrait painted by Washington lawyers who know him is of a one-time prizefighter who, while not a hang-ing judge, has little patience with diversions in the courtroom; of a Republican, ap-pointed to the bench by Presi-asperation, prompting a rustle considerations; of a man who questioned them at length from the bench. Repreatedly, he pressed Bernard L. Barker, one of the four, as to the source of money used for expenses in the Water-gate affair. Just as persistently, the defendant said, no, he did not know for sure. Finally, he said the money had come in well, I'm sorry," Judge lagreed that "specious" would Sirica finally said in quiet ex-be a better word.

The New York Times Judge John J. Sirica

dent Eisenhower, who is, they in the gallery, "but I don't lumbus Gymnasium, where he say, rigorously above political believe you."

was not required to do so, whe of these political cases that by taking long walks. the four defendants asked to smack of politics, but no polit- In his long legal career, he hind the high blondwod paneled Federal bench in 1957, "he had bench in the cavernous Cere-only a modest political backmonial Courtroom here, Judge ground, and even that was in Sirica presents a deceptive pro-the District of Columbia, which file. His black, wavy hair and is hardly a hot Republican po-business:—like demeanor sug-litical battleground," à Demo-gest a rather young man gest a rather young man.

In fact, as even lawyers who of March 19 and he has been lawyer added. He's not can-been in the law in Washington for 47 years. He has been a Federal judge for more than 15 years and is, by virtue of seniority, the chief judge of the District Court here. Name and he has been a sometimes." In any event, says a former prosecutor, Judge Sirica de-serves high marks for assigning immigrant, truly came up the will think the worst of him. I hard way. He put himself think he's a stand-up guy." through the Georgetown University Law School (class of 1926) by working as athletic instructor at a Knights of Co-

Jack Dempsey Friend

His boxing background led considerations; of a man whois not notably intellectual, butwho has the unquestioned re-spect of the local bar.His impatience accorded wit to a long Iriendsnip with JackDempsey, with whom he touredthe country on bond drivesed the United States DistrictCourt. At a hearing last Octo-His behavior today offered ber, for example, he said:a new illustration. Although heHis impatience accorded wit to a long Iriendsnip with JackDempsey, with whom he touredthe country on bond drivesed the United States DistrictCourt. At a hearing last Octo-His behavior today offered ber, for example, he said:a new illustration. Although heHis impatience accorded wit to a long Iriendsnip with JackDempsey, with whom he touredthe country on bond drivesed the United States DistrictJudge Sirica, who standsabout 5 feet 8 inches, nowstays in trim, associates say,the of these political cases that by taking long walks.

the four defendants asked to change their plea to guilty, he questioned them at length from the bench. Superstructure of the second second second by taking long wards. Superstructure of politics, but no polit-ha practiced in just about ev-cratic, has a monopoly on honesty or integrity."

Sitting, almost unmoving, be- publican when appointed to the cratic lawyer recalled today.

"He may not be the most know him are surprised to intellectual man on the D.C. learn, he will be 69 years old bench, but he's honest," the on March 19 and he has been lawyer added. "He's not canthe Watergate case to himself. Acquaintances say that Judge tough, the Republicans will be Sirica, the son of an Italian immigrant. truly came up the