

Cuban Exiles Raise $3,000*For 4 Guilty in Break-In

NYTimes

MIAMI, April 20 (UPI)—A 14-man committee from Miami's Cuban exile colony has raised between "$3,000 and $4,000" to aid four Miami area men who pleaded guilty to breaking into the Democratic party's headquarters in the Watergate complex in Washington last June.

The money is deposited in five accounts, one in the name of the "Miami Watergate Defendants' Relief Fund" and one in the name of each of the four men. They are Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martínez, Virgilio T. Gonzalez and Frank A. Sturgis.

Reinaldo Vergara, spokesman for the committee, said that none of the money had come from the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

The four men are now in jail in Washington, awaiting sentencing.
