

GOP Chief

Says Watergate Won't Aid Demos

Dallas

George Bush, Republican national chairman, said yesterday Democrats will not gain anything in the 1974 elections because "the average American is not as upset about Watergate as politicians and newsmen appear to be."

Bush made the comment at a news conference preceding a Dallas luncheon speech. He also spoke during the day at Fort Worth and Houston.

"The loser from the (Watergate) fallout likely will be the American political system and not the Republican party," he said.

United Press