

The Scandal Aids Newspaper, Magazine Sales

New York

A number of newspapers and magazines report higher newsstand sales since high administration officials resigned in the wake of developments in the Watergate bugging case.

The Los Angeles Times reported an increase "in the area of two to three per cent" in the past couple of weeks.

Time magazine and Newsweek both reported a substantial increase in newsstand sales, but would not reveal the figures.

United Press
