

His Day Off

Former presidential aide John Ehrlichman took Saturday off—just like a lot of the rest of the nation. After days of testifying before the grand jury investigating Watergate, Ehrlichman turned yesterday to such mundane matters as mowing his lawn and playing with Kelly, the family dog.

—AP Photo