During the 1968 campaign, as the severat factors around the future President were jockeying for power, one member of the Republican Party for the Watergate activi-Haldeman-Ehrlichman clique bragged to me leaders — because "we've got the body." have met secretly to plot — alas, futilely. The body he referred to was that of Mr. how the Haldeman-Ehrlichman hegemon Nixon.

Quite simply, Haldeman and Ehrlichbuild themselves an unprecedented political come to the fore, and the Republican Party empire. Lamentably, the President was can have a new chance to grasp the extraordinarily vulnerable because of his opportunity and challenge of national reday-to-day managerial incapacity and his great dislike of face-to-face conflict or par- have been fully consummated with the ticipation in policy disputes betweeen subor- shallow, gimmickry-minded Waterbuggers dinates.

The role ausnices of Haldeman and Phenin honor the White House filled up with pretty boys, admen, efficiency experts and other people whose political competence ranged from negligible to invisible. With no broader political experience than sidling up to Richard Nixon, with no commitment to I could not disagree more, but my ideas or ideology, and with no broader explanation must, of necessity, be something political goal than selfish aggrandizement of political goal than selfish aggrandizement of White House power, the Haldeman-Ehrlichsay that I worked in the 1968 Nixon cam- man combine has been a disaster for the puten and Served in the administration until administration and for the Republican Par-Spring, 1970, when I resigned to begin ty, in retrospect, former Attorney General Writing this column Based on my personal John Mitchell seems to have been similarly
