

'Impeach Nixon'

Banner Not Worth $1 Million

Los Angeles

California oil tycoon Ross McCollum, who was annoyed by an "Impeach Nixon" banner atop a dormitory, said yesterday he only meant to "shake up" the Cal Tech campus when he threatened to cancel a planned $1 million gift.

McCollum, a long-time California Institute of Technology trustee, said the only other time students moved him to extreme action was when he wrote UC Berkeley out of his will after campus riots there a decade ago.

But Friday, a week after the Cal Tech students' banner was hoisted — and later burned by other students — millionaire McCollum said he had cooled down enough to withdraw his threat.

United Press