'A Sorry' Shuffle

Washington
Senator William Proxmire (Dem-Wis.) said yesterday the wholesale shift of positions in the administration is
"a sorry joke."

"A house cleaning was called for," he said in a statement. "But this stuttering, stop-go, in-out administration of national affairs is becoming a sorry joke.

"The nation is ill-served when the top men in our government are being shuffled around like a deck of cards in a drunken poker game."
