Cook Tells Senators About S.E.C.'s Vesco Inquiry

MAY 1 5 197 NYTIMES By JAMES M. NAUGHTON Special to The New York Times

Special to The New York Times WASHINGTON, May 14—The chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, G. Brad-ford Cook, testified under oath for nearly five hours today be-fore a Senate subcommittee about the agency's investiga-tion of Robert L. Vesco. The hearing before the Ap-propriations subcommittee was designed to explore allegations that Mr. Cook had been persu-aded to delete from a lawsuit by the commission any men-tion of a $200,000 cash contri-buion from Mr. Vesco to Presition of a $200,000 cash contri-buion from Mr. Vesco to Presi-dent Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. The money subse-quently was returned. A grand jury in New York last week indicted two former Nixon Cabinet members—John N. Mitchell, who had been At-torney General, and Maurice H. Stans, who had been Secretary of Commerce—on charges of Stans, who had been Secretary of Commerce—on charges of perjury, conspiracy to obstruct justice and to defraud the United States. It was alleged that they had conspired to ac-cept the contribution in ex-change for an effort to influ-ence the S.E.C. investigation. Mr. Cook was called before the subcommittee by its chair-man, Senator William Prox-mire, Democrat of Wisconsin, to explain among other things why he had originally told the subcommittee that he had had no dealings with Mr. Stans about the Vesco case until after the commission filed its lawsuit. lawsuit.

'Corrected' Testimony

According to Mr. Proxmire, Mr. Cook "corrected" the testi-mony last week, advising the subcommittee that he had dis-cussed the case with Mr. Stans, before the S.E.C. took its action.

Neither Mr. Cook nor the two Senators who heard his testimony and that of other agency officials this afternoon would comment on the details, The hearing was closed. Senator Edward W. Brooke, Davidicent of Messachusette

Republican of Massachusetts, was asked during a break in the hearing whether Mr. Cook was forthcoming with his testimony. "He's under oath and he's testifying," Mr. Brooke replied. Senator Proxmire later confirmed that the commission decided what use to make of chairman had been required to the information obtained from give sworn testimony. He said Mr. Cook and the aides, includ-that it was the first time he had ever asked a witness to ap-tigator for the agency, and pear before the subcommiftee under oath. Mr. Proxmire said he had not case.
