

Because a line of type was inadvertently dropped, there was an erroneous reference to H. R. Haldeman, former White House chief of staff, in an article in The New York Times yesterday. The article should have said that, according to Jeb Stuart Magruder, Mr. Haldeman knew that Mr. Magruder was going to commit perjury at the Watergate trial last January.

NYTimes JUN 16 1973