

Next Question,
Please

Washington

A White House memo only seven words long brought roars of laughter from the packed Senate Watergate committee hearing when it was read yesterday.

On White House notepaper, it was addressed to John Dean III, dismissed presidential counsel, from Charles Colson, another former White House aide.

It said: "Now what the hell do I do?"

Dean said that Colson was asking for advice in dealing with E. Howard Hunt, one of the convicted Watergate

CHARLES COLSON
He needed help

conspirators who had complained of feeling abandoned in the case.

Reuters