

WV Post

Poster

JUL 12 1973

First Republic

(1789-)

And can't you imagine justifying the use of the identical words Madison uses to dump on his congress. The balance of power among factions prevented national leadership from innovating or making hard decisions about major problems. Policy was merely the lowest common denominator of what the majority of factions would tolerate—to the detriment of such controversial legislation as progressive taxation. (30) Mr.

COMMENTARY, B6, Col. 1

Can you hear the Ziggy Ron himself declaring that it was constitutionally appropriate to declare the Constitution appropriate?

First Republic

(1789-)

...on national defense

...the what are you making such a

...the many law has been charge

...the many of the constitutionality. Many

...the many of the tanks, com

...the many of the political

...the many of the sound

...the many of the constitution

...the many of the are ab

...the many of the though

...the many of the and other

...the many of the North Carolina

...the many of the strike you as

...the many of the on your fingers

...the many of the in the fingers,

...the many of the

...the many of the unconstitutionally ap

...the many of the we could all write

...the many of the "God, man, I can dig it"

...the many of the across the dinner table and asks

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the (code page)

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

...the many of the

[Faded text from the reverse side of the page, mostly illegible]

...the many of the