Kennedy Had Tapes tabelts of Presidential tale On 'Sensitive' Talks

Special to The New York Times

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 17 -President Kennedy made apparently secret tape recordings of both telephone conversations and staff meetings in the White House, the director of the Kennedy Library said tonight.

The Kennedy tapes came to light against a background of controversy over disclosures in the Watergate hearings that President Nixon had secretly wired his office and telephones to record conversations, and charges and denials that President Johnson had done the same tabelts of Presidential telephone conversations and 125 magnetic tapes of Presidential meetings, the library nounced.

A search of the John F. Kennedy Library archives in nearby Waltham turned up 68 Dic-

Continued on Page 20, Column 7

In a three-sentence state-ment, Dan H. Fenn Jr., director of the library, said, "The li-brary's impression, after a cur-sory check, is that almost all of this material deals with highly sensitive foreign policy and national defense matters." three-sentence

The statement said, "The Kennedy Library staff has not reviewed this material, nor has it been screend for public re-

"If it had been done, I would lit is awkward to rine President have known it. I was in the President's office every day," hadded. He said then that no tapes had turned up in the armunist mission, "that if contains are enter recorded.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., the historian and a Kennedy aide, said that it was "inconceivable" that Mr. Kennedy would ever have approved of such an "incredible" system as Mr. Nivon's that Mr. Kennedy would ever have approved of such an "incredible" system as Mr. Nixon's.

In his statement, Mr. Fenn said that the Dictabelt recordings of the telephone conversations began about September, 1962, and the tapes of the Presidential meetings began in July, 1962.

The existence of Mr. Nixon's automatic listening devices was disclosed yesterday in brief but dramatic testimony at the Senate Watergate hearings by Alexander P. Butterfield, a former White House aide who now heads the Federal Aviation Administration.

be they could have been more cautious."

Among the leaders who have visited Mr. Nixon since the spring of 1971, and whose conversations have presumably oversations have presumably of Mr. Lunch, Prime Minister of Ireland. King Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

John M. Lunch, Prime Minister of Vusoslavia. Indira Gandhi, Prime Minister of India. Brazil.

William McMahon, President of Luser Germany. Eisaku Sato, Prime Minister of India. Brazil.

William R. Tolbert Jr., President of Mexico. Lee Kuan Yea, Prime Minister of Singapore. Gregorio Lopez Bravo de Castro, Foreign Minister of Spain.

Nihat Erim, Prime Minister of Singapore. Gregorio Lopez Bravo de Castro, Foreign Minister of Spain.

Nihat Erime Minister of Singapore. Gregorio Lopez Bravo de Castro, Foreign Minister of Spain.

Nihat Erime Minister of Singapore. Gregorio Lopez Bravo de Castro, Foreign Minister of Spain.

Nihat Erime Prime Minister of Singapore. Gregorio Lopez Bravo de Castro, Foreign Minister of Spain.

Nihat Erime Prime Minister of India.

Brazil.

William R. Tolbert Jr., President of Liberia. Leonid Brezheve, General Secretary of the Communist Parly of the Soviet Union.

The White House, while confirming that nearly all of President Nixon's meetings and telephone conversations had been phone conversations had been secretly recorded since 1971, asserted that the system was similar to that employed during the Johnson Administration.

That charge was immediately challenged by the left Precident

That charge was immediately challenged by the late President Johnson's aides, one of whom, Joseph A. Califano Jr., described it as a "damned, outrageous smear, a total smear on a dead President."

NVTimes JUL 1 8 197 Embassies Not Concerned

Special to The New York Times

it been screend for public release by the screening committee established under the deed of gift turning the material over to the Federal Government."

The circumstances under which the tapes were made were not clar from the statement.

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, July 17—
When the Shah of Iran, Premier Kakuei Tanaka of Japan and Prime Minister Gough Whitlam of Australia visit President Nixon later this month, they will be the first visitors from overseas whose conversations with the President will be recorded with their ment.

But ysterday, two high aides to President Kennedy said that they knew of no monitoring of conversations during the Kennedy Administration.

But ysterday, two high aides dent will be recorded with their foreknowledge.

The private comments from officials of a number of embassies in Washington today indicated that the White House taning procedure had caused

"If canot recall this ever being done," said David Powers, former appointments secretary to President Kennedy and curator of th John F. Kennedy Library.

"If it had been done, I would base known it. I was in the long procedure had caused little concern.

"I'm rather fed up with all the calls," said an officer at one Western European embassy. "I don't see what all the excitement is about. Of course, it is awkward for the President to have this disclosed now."

versations ar enot recorded as they happen, they will be re-corded later from notes. May-be they could have been more cautious."