Inouye Whispers 'Liar'
To Ehrlichman Replies

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UPI)—Soon after John D. Ehrlichman, the former White House adviser, finished answering questions today by Senator Daniel K. Inouye, the Democratic Senator from Hawaii, whispered, "What a liar!"

Mr. Inouye apparently believed that his microphone was switched off. But the barely audible remark could be heard by those listening clearly to the nationally televised Watergate hearings.

During a break in the proceedings, Mr. Inouye denied that he had made the remark. But when he was told that his words had been picked up by his microphone and recorded, he said: "Well, I guess I must have been speaking of myself."
