By DOUGLAS E. KNEELAND Special to The New York Times

Special to The N. WASHINGTON, July 27 — John D. Ehrlichman's cryptic notes about an April meeting with Charles W. Colson, an-other former White House aide, indicate that they discussed a way for President Nixon to head off the impact of any pos-sible disclosures by E. Howard Hunt Jr., a convicted Watergate conspirator. Whether President Nixon ever knew of the proposal has

1

Whether President Nixon ever knew of the proposal has not been disclosed. However, four days after that Ehrlich-man-Colson discussion," he fol-lowed the outline of the plan closely in an opening statement at a news conference. The plan called for the White at a news conference. The plan called for the White House to disclose that an in-vestigator had reported dam-aging evidence to the President, which he had turned over to the Attorney General. It also suggested that the President restate his position on execu-tive privilege, noting that he had never intended it to cover criminal conduct. Testifying for the fourth day before the Senate Watergate committee, Mr. Ehrlichman told today of having been assigned by the President at the end of March to replace John W. Dean 3d in attempting to get to the bottom of the Watergate affair. Mr. Ehrlichman, the Presi-dent's former domestic affair.

bottom of the Watergate affair. Mr. Ehrlichman, the Presi-dent's former domestic affairs adviser who resigned April 30, said that he had conducted 10 interviews in the first half of that month. He produced notes on five of them, taken in what he termed "a kind of personal shorthand."

Mr. Ehrlichman explained to Mr. Ehrlichman explained to the committee members por-tions of his notes on the inter-views. However, the members did not question him today about the plan, which was ad-vanced by Mr. Colson and his attorney, David I. Shapiro, or about several other entries that appeared to be at least as tan-talizing as the matters that were explored. were explored.

Returns Monday

But Mr. Ehrlichman will re-turn Monday to the witness stand in the caucus room on the third floor of the Old Senate the third floor of the Old Senate Office Building. At a recess this afternoon, Mr. Ehrlichman confirmed in an interview that a segment of his notes on the Colson inter-view referred to a proposal to render anticlimactic any revela-tions that might be made by Hunt, who was then in the midst of sessions with the Fed-eral grand jury. The White House was appar-ently concerned about what might be said by Hunt, who once was a member of its spe-cial investigations known as the "plumbers." Mr. Dean, who was dismissed at the end of April as counsel to the President and then be-came the stor witheras to the President and then be-came the star witness against Administration figures at the Senate hearings, has testified that Hunt was attempting to blackmail the White House. Mr. Dean also said that he told the President in March that Hunt might demand as much as

Hunt might demand as much as $1,000,000 and that Mr. Nixon had replied that that would be no problem. Other White House aides have disputed in their testimony that version of the conversation about blackmail. And Mr. Dean has said that the President told him at an April meeting that he had been fooling in what he allegedly said about the $1.000 000 $1,000,000.

In the broad but neat strokes of Mr. Ehrlichman's "personal shorthand," the President ap-pears as Pi, a letter of the Greek alphabet. Mr. Colson is "C" and Mr. Shapiro is "S." "Evidence is a small "e" in a circle. Mr. Ehrlichman himself is "E" and Fred Fielding, a former assistant to Mr. Dean is "FF." Hunt is "HH." "Thus, his notes on Mr. Sha-piro's recommendation appear in part as follows: In the broad but neat strokes in part as follows: A. 1—Restate exec priv re

crim. conduct. And on Mr. Colson's recom-mendation:

C: 1—An investigator reports to pi E & FF damaging

e (circled) —Pi orders it be given US Atty —Then HH anti-climax 2-3.

3-Then HH anti-climax on Mon On April 17 at a news con-ference, four days*after the plan was discussed by Mr. Ehr-lichman, Mr. Colson and Mr. Shapiro,*President Nixon an-nounced that an agreement had been: reached with the Senate Watergate committee on "ground rules" concerning "executive privilege" that would "preserve the separation of powers without suppressing of powers without suppressing the facts."

He said this "arrangement is

He said this "arrangement is one that covers this hearing only in which wrongdoing has been charged." Then the President added that "There have been major developments in the case, con-cerning which it would be im-proper to be more specific now, except to say that real prog-ress has been made in finding the truth."

Met With Kleindienst He also reported that he had met two days previously with Richard G. Kleindienst, who was then Attorney General, to "review the facts which had come to me in my investiga-tion."

* 13 1222

tion!" In another memorandum about a conversation on April 5 with Paul O'Brien, an attorney for the Committee for the Re-election of the President, Mr. Ehrlichman indicated that John N. Mitchell, the former Attorney General and campaign director, had told Mr. O'Brien that they "must close ranks."

'Martha' Underscored

"JNM will tough it out," the notes read. Under that is a line that says simply "Martha," the name of Mr. Mitchell's wife. It is underscored.

Still recording Mr. O'Brien's report on what Mr. Mitchell told him, Mr. Ehrlichman wrote next: "H must bring Jeb up short-

"H must bring Jeb up snort-shut up, stop seeing people." "H" is H. R. Haldeman, the former White House chief of staff who also resigned April 30. "Jeb" is Jeb Stuart Ma-gruder, who was Mr. Mitch-ell's deputy at the re-election committee. committee.

Mr. Magruder has testified before the committee that Mr. Mitchell had approved the po-litical espionage and sabotage plan that led to the break-in on June 17, 1972 at the Dem-ocratic National Committee's beadmarters. headquarters.

But perhaps the most cryptic is an entry about Mr. Mitchell at the end of the notes on the

at the end of the notes on the Colson interview. "JNM" the entry is labeled. And beside that appear the words "unbalanced, stress, didn't want to go to 1701 [headquarters of the re-elec-tion committee at 1701 Penn-sylvania Avenue], drink, disorg, never und control, wife." No, Mr. Ehrlichman de-clared in the interview today, he would not explain that—not unless the Senate committee asked him about it.

*13 April? Naughton, NYTimes 28 Jul 73, seems to be referring to same memo and gives date as 15 April.

Reproduction of memo, WXP 28 Jul 73, p. 13

JUL 2 8 1973 00