

SFChronicle AUG 7 1973

Nixon Pegs Cox' Salary At $38,000

Washington

President Nixon issued an executive order yesterday setting the salary of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox at $38,000 a year.

His action came in a document which also set the same salary level for an associate attorney general and a commissioner general of an environmental exposition scheduled for Spokane, Wash.

The order did not mention Cox by name, but rather referred to "special prosecutor, the Department of Justice."

Associated Press