

Agnew in Palm Springs With Sinatra

Palm Springs

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew relaxed with his friend Frank Sinatra yesterday at the singer's plush home in this desert resort.

Agnew and Sinatra often play golf together, and it was likely a round or two was on the agenda.

Agnew flew here yesterday to "take a couple of days off" following his news conference in Washington denying allegations he was involved in a kickback and bribery scheme in Baltimore while governor of Maryland.

United Press
