Nixon Elects to Spend Holiday at Camp David

San Clemente

President Nixon decided yesterday to cut short his California stay and return to Washington later in the week.

Spokesmen gave no explanation of the change in plans but said the President plans to spend the Labor Day holiday with his family at his Camp David, Md., retreat. Mr. Nixon had been expected to remain in California at least through the Labor Day weekend.

No exact date for Mr. Nixon's return was given, except that it will be "toward the end of the week" and that he will be making no stops on the way back.
