atergate Mystery Man Identified

By Jack Anderson and Les Whitten

We can now identify the mystery man of the Watergate investigation, referred to in Senvestigation, referred to in Senate testimony as "Chapman's friend," who spied on the George McGovern camp for President Nixon during the 1972 campaign.

He is the respected foreign correspondent | Seymour Freidin, who covered the Battle of Berlin and later became exective foreign editor for the New York Herald Tribune. He now heads the Hearst newspaper's London office. 's London office.

He was not employed by Hearst, however, while he was a political spy, but was a free-lance writer. Nor were the Hearst editors aware of his se-cret role until we notified

Not even the Senate Water-gate investigators have been able to identify the mysterious "Chapman's friend." They mistakenly thought columnist-author Victor Lasky was the spy and sent two investigators to interview him.

The code name "Mr. Chaprane code name "Mr. Chap-man" was adopted during the 1972 campaign by President Nixon's veteran political aide Murray Chotiner. It was the same code name that the late Gov. Tom Dewey used to iden-tify kingelf in whome salls to tify himself in phone calls to Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon during the 1952 campaign.

As the 1972 "Mr. Chapman," Chotiner submitted secret reports on the McGovern campaign to the Nixon managers. were identified only as "Chap-man's friend."

One was Lucy Goldberg who divulged her Mata Hari role earlier this month. She traveled on the McGovern cam-paign plane as a book writer and free-lance contributor to North American Newspaper Alliance and Women's News Service. The other press spy, who had escaped identification until now, was the more se-cretive Freidin. Each collected $1,000 a week from Chotiner.

Confronted with the results Confronted with the results of our investigation, Chotiner acknowledged that Freidin was hired by him as a "reporter" during "a portion of the Democratic primaries and a portion of the time after the McGovern nomination."

After three days of overseas calls we located Freidin in the

After three days of overseas calls we located Freidin in the Mediterranean. "What I was trying to do," he said, "was to pull a Joe McGinnis." McGinnis worked for the Nixon advertising campaign in 1968 and wrote an inside account called "Selling of the President."

Freidin said he also had in-ended to write an "inside Freidin said he also had intended to write an "inside book," but vigorously denied that he was a spy. "I never spied," he said. "I gave my unvarnished views which (Attorney General John) Mitchell told Chotiner were junk."

Freidin said that he submit-

Freidin said that he submitted both verbal and written re-ports and that Mitchell compained to Chotiner that he had read the same information in the newspapers. Freidin said

These reports included political intelligence from two undercover correspondents who were identified only as "Chap-$11,000.

$11,000.
Footnote: Apparently, we were among those who were duped by Freidin during the 1972 campaign. He frequently visited us and pumped us for campaign information. He also pleaded with us to give his son Joshua a chance to accompany us to Miami Beach for the Democratic convention. We paid ocratic convention. We paid Joshua to be a messenger, and he had the run of our Miami Beach offices throughout the convention.

Dubious Detergent — 17pressure from the joined Indiana and Dade County, Fla., in banning the sale of phosphate detergents. This triggered new pressure from the soapers to bring back NTA.

At a hush-hush meeting in Washington several weeks ago, HEW capitulated, and agreed HEW capitulated, and agreed to give an early answer despite a gaping lack of research. For the fact is that HEW is far from completing its probe of NTA's possible pernicious effects.

"The bulk of the data will be available by early 1974."

David Rall of the "Total Control of the "Tota

stitute ^

See WXP 14 Jul 73, Hanrahan; Hanrahan says Theodore H. White reported in his book that Nixon registered at Howard Johnson Inn, Nashua, N.H., 1 Feb 68, as "Mr. Benjamin Chapman."

See NYT 29 Jul 73, Kovach