

President Nixon Spent Holiday In Mountains

Camp David

President Nixon remained at his mountaintop retreat yesterday, spending a three-day Labor Day holiday weekend away from the mid-90-degree heat of Washington.

The chief executive got in some work, according to his aides, and also took time out to swim in the Camp David pool and walk in the woods.

Mr. Nixon is to return to the White House today. His wife, Pat, daughters Tricia Cox and Julie Eisenhower and son-in-law David Eisenhower were at Camp David for the weekend.

Associated Press