President Nixon waved to a small group of Florida welcomers

Nixon's Weekend

Key Biscayne, Fla.

President Nixon, accompanied by several aides including —Watergate lawyer J. Fred Buzhardt, flew here yesterday for a long Columbus Day weekend.

Mr. Nixon left his family behind. His plane at Homestead Air Force Base landed in a light rain at mid-afternoon. Earlier, the President had held a series of meetings in Washington with his cabinet, the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board and representatives of the six leading U.S. educational associations.

White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler told newsmen he expected the President to spend the weekend relaxing. He said speech writer Patrick J. Buchanan and Buzhardt were invited along to participate in review of several matters, but declined to be specific.
