

Nixon's Debt

To Billy Graham

ST. LOUIS

Whenever President Nixon went to church with the Rev. Billy Graham, he borrowed money from the evangelist to put in the collection plate, Graham said here Monday.

Graham has officiated at two of the 41 religious services at the Nixon White House, and has accompanied the President to other church services.

While discussing the effects of scandals on the Administration at a news conference, Graham said, "He (Nixon) is a private man who, for instance, has left his financial affairs to someone else.

"Whenever we went to church together, he always had to borrow money from me to put in the collection plate."

United Press