

Liddy's little misunderstanding

Uniter Press

NEW YORK — Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy thought he had been ordered to assassinate columnist Jack Anderson during the 1972 campaign, parade magazine reported yesterday.

The magazine said that during a meeting with Jeb Stuart Magruder of the committee for the reelection of the president, Magruder mentioned Anderson and told Liddy: "We've got to get rid of this guy."

So Liddy, according to parade, left the meeting and ran into Bob Reisner, Magruder's assistant, and told him:

"I've just been ordered to kill Jack Anderson."

Alarmed, Reisner ran back into Magruder's office and confronted Magruder.

"Magruder and Reisner immediately got hold of Liddy," the article said. "Magruder explained that he had just been talking figuratively. He didn't want Anderson assassinated . . . all he meant was that Anderson's incisive reporting constituted a problem that he would prefer to be rid of."

According to parade, Liddy answered: "Where I come from that means a rubout."