Vesco Ruling Set Friday In Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 1 (AP)—Bahamian Magistrate Emmanuel Osadebay says he will not rule until next Friday on an attempt by the United States to extradite financier Robert Vesco.

Legal arguments in the extradition case ended Friday.

Osadebay denied requests by lawyers for the U.S. Justice Department to rule on the case sooner. He also turned down a request from the chief defense attorney that Vesco's passport be released.
