Metzenbaum, Taking Oath, Says Nixon Should Obey Subpoenas

By Spencer Rich Washington Post Staff Writer

Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio, taking office yesterday as the Senate's 58th Democrat, said President Nixon should obey subpoenas from the Senate Watergate committee for 400 additional White House tion. documents, unless the courts strike down the subpoenas.

At a brief Senate ceremony, Metzenbaum was entered on the Senate payroll and became entitled to the pay, privileges and allowances of a Senator. He will be formally sworn in on the Senate floor when Congress reconvenes Jan. 21.

Metzenbaum also said the President had been "less than frank with the American people" in the Watergate scandals and asserted that if the President is subpoenaed by the House Judiciary Committee in the course of an impeachment proceeding "then I would think he should testify." But he said that short of a sub-poena, it was up to the President to decide whether to testify.

The 56-year-old Cleveland attorney and businessman, who became wealthy as the developer of a chain of airport parking lots, was appointed to a presidential resignation.

Succeed Republican William Metzenbaum's wife, Shi

B. Saxbe, who resigned to be-come U.S. Attorney General. Shelley, 21, Amy, 15, and Mrs. term. He is also a candidate for election to a full six-year term in November, although former astronaut John Glenn for the Democratic nomina-

Asked whether Mr. Nixon should honor recently issued Senate Watergate committee subpoenas for more than 400 White House tapes and documents, Metzenbaum told re-portres, "The President must act in accord with the law, and if the subpoenas are held valid by the courts, I would think yes, he should honor them."

Sen. Saxbe, who was attending the Metzenbaum cere-mony, said Thursday he viewed issuance of the subpoenas as a "fishing expedition." But he made no comment on Metzenbaum's remarks.

The new senator declined to voice any advance judgment on whether the President should be impeached, saying, should be impeached, saying, come U.S. Attorney General. Metzenbaum will serve the one year remaining of Saxbe's term. He is also a candidate for election to a full six year. new senator as assistant Senate secretary Darrell St. Claire administered an oath is expected to challenge him allowing Metzenbaum to be placed on the Senate payroll. Also present was a former law partner, Harold Stern Cleveland, who will be Metzenbaum's temporary administrative aide. The new senator will get Saxbe's old office.

Metzenbaum has

Metzenbaum's wife, Shirley, 1974 nomination.

Metzenbaum, the Senate's third Jew (Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut and Jacob K. Javits of New York are the others), took the path with his hand on a Jewish Bible given him by Rabbi Arthur Lelyveld of Cleveland, opened to a passage reading, "Rob not the weak because he is weak; nei-"Rob not the ther crush the poor in the gate."

Metzenbaum, wno is usually characterized as strongly liberal, served eight years in the Ohio Legislature and beat Glenn in 1970 for the Demoshould be impeached, saying, cratic Senate nomination, only "If the House moves, I would want to hear the evidence."

Total Part of the House moves, I would be evidence."

Total Part of the House moves and the House moves are the House move the H Metzenbaum nas been ment by Democratic Gov. quoted at home as saying national unity might be aided by a presidential resignation.

ment by Democratic Gov. John Gilligan to Saxbe's seat appears to give him a leg up over Glenn in the race for the Democratic