SFChronicle

Haig Dénies Nixon Has A 'Go to Hell' Attitude

San Clemente

The White House chief of staff said yesterday that President Nixon's refusal to supply the Senate Watergate committee with a broad array of tapes and documents does not signify a new 'hard-line approach' by the administration.

"The President isn't sifting out here telling people to go to hell." said Alexan-der M. Haig Jr. "We're cooperating fully with the Watergate prosecutor and I Watergate prosecutor and I don't know how anyone makes a hardline approach out of that."

Mr. Nixon sent Water-gate committee chairman

Sam J. Ervin, Jr. a letter last Friday, rejecting the committee's subpoenas for committee's suppoends for nearly 500 Watergate-related documents and other ma-terials, some of which have already been turned over to already been turned over to the Watergate prosecutor. One committee member. Senator Herman Talmadge (Dem-Ga.), said Saturday, that the refusal indicated the her comothing to hide "

The fore of the letter was unyielding, with Mr. Nixon declaring that cooperation with the committee's request "would unquestionably destroy any vestige of confi-dentiality of presidential communications."

Washington Post