

SF Examiner JAN 13 1974
Nixon home

PALM SPRINGS -- President Nixon, ending an 18-day working vacation in California, flew back toward Washington last night aboard a small government jet.

The President had come to California on a regularly scheduled commercial flight, but Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren said a government plane was being used for the return trip "for security reasons."