Tapes Might Help Mitchell, Stans

NEW YORK, Feb. 2, (UPI)—| Mitchell and Stans are to go which established that the that Vesco's contribution was some portions of a taped conversation between President Nixon and former White House counsel John Dean might be helpful to the defense of former Nixon Cabinet Maurice H. Stans in their conspiracy trial this month.

ment in Manhattan federal Brady material there." cour; during a pre-trial hear-

U.S. District Court Judge Lee on trial Feb. 19 on charges of Gagliardi indicated today that obstructing an investigation into the financial activities of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for a $200,000 gift to the defense. Mr. Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

Gagilardi said he had reviewed the tape of the March ecutors agreed today to make nas by defense attorneys for member John N. Mitchell and 20, 1973, Nixon-Dean convresa- a third available to him. tion turned over to him by the U.S. attorney's office and "it the judge covered a Feb. 28, tween Dean and campaign *Gagliardi made the state appears to me there is some 1973, conversation between treasurer Hugh Sloan and be-

The March 20 tape was the second presidential tape reviewed by Gagliardi, and pros-

The ref ence was to a 1963 cording to Dean, the Feb. 28 House chief of staff H. R. ing 1 the Mitchell-Stans case. case, Brily vs. Maryland, conversation follo ed reports (Bob) Haldeman.

prosecution in a criminal trial being investigated and the is compelled to turn over ma- President wanted to know if terial which may be helpful to his brother, Edward Nixon, was involved.

Neither Mitchell nor Stans was present at today's hearing, which focused on subpoeother records, tapes and mem-The earlier tape heard by os, including exchanges be-Dean and the President. Ac- tween Dean and former White