

Sally Harmony on Marriott PR Staff

Sally Harmony, former secretary to G. Gordon Liddy at the Committee for the Re-election of the President, has a new job on the public relations staff of Washington's Marriott Corp.

Mrs. Harmony, who went to Marriott last summer as one of several secretaries to board chairman and Republican fund-raiser J. Willard Marriott Sr., recently moved to the staff of Thomas Burke, Marriott vice president for corporate affairs, as his secretary.

Before joining the firm's payroll, Mrs. Harmony had also worked for Marriott Sr., at the 1973 Presidential Inaugural Committee, which he chaired.

Mrs. Harmony was personal secretary to Liddy, a convicted Watergate burglar, and she transcribed Watergate bugging tapes. She gained national attention during the Senate's Watergate hearings.
