MAR 1 1974

WXPost

Friday, March 1, 1974

A 12

horts Kepublicans

By Lou Cannon Washington Post Staff Writer

President Nixon, backed by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and Vice President Gerald R. Ford, emotionally appealed to Republicans yesterday not to become disillusioned by ad-ministration mistakes or by special election defeats.

Spurred on by a cheering crowd of 500 Young Republicans, in convention at the Shoreham Hotel, who chanted "three more years" when he appeared, the President urged party workers to "keep your faith, keep your confidence."

"You learn from your defeats and then you go on to fight again, never quit, never quit," Mr. Nixon said. "Always go on and fight for those things you believe in."

Goldwater, speaking to the same audience two hours later. drew loud applause when he said that Mr. Nixon would neither resign nor be impeached.

However, the Arizona senator criticized the administra-tion's $304 billion proposed budget as an ill-advised *attempt by the President to ap-pease his "would-be im-peachers." Such criticism, criticism, Goldwater added did not af-fect his basic support for Mr. Nixon or his friendship with him.

THE WASHINGTON POST

Goldwater said that Mr. Nix-on's latest budget discarded all of the administration's previous "ax-wielding austerity plans for reducing the size and cost of the federal estab-lishment."

He pictured this "splurge of extravagance with the taxpayer's money" as an attempt by the White House to appease the President's liberal critics. Goldwater said this overlooks the historic personal opposition Mr. Nixon of "liberal-to-radical leaders," which he traced back to the Alger Hiss case

"If the President's advisers believe that any progress can be made toward appeasing Mr. Nixon's would-be impeachers by compromising economic policy, they are badly mis-taken," Goldwater said. Except for Goldwater's criticism of the budget, most of the day's activities had the appearance of a pep rally intended to stimulate Republican workers to take a vigo-rous role in this year's election campaigns.

Ford, in a question-and-an-swer session, predicted an improving energy and economic picture that he said would lead to a "totally different po-litical situation" in the November campaigns.

While conceding that Water-"He knows when the chips gate played a part in the elec-are down he can depend on tion of a Democrat to the tendency to become disillu-me," Goldwater said. Michigan congressional dis sioned with politics" when Michigan congressional dis-trict he had represented for 25 years, Ford said that "adverse economic conditions" were pri-marily responsible for the Republican defeat.

Ford was cheered when he finished with a prediction that Mr. Nixon would serve as President for three more years. The President went Ford one better in his own speech, saying that he would finish out his term and that a Penublican would occupy the serve as the president went finish out his term and that a the Watergate scandal which all, even risk losing, and I will has plagued his second term, show you a lousy candidate," Mr. Nixon said there is "a the President said.

sioned with politics" when "mistakes are made by people who are in your own party." The President said that to withdraw from politics because of this would be to leave it "to those who don't care about those mistakes so much."

Republican would occupy the White House until 1985. Show me a candidate who In an apparent reference to willing to take a risk and risk