Five Aides Seen on Six Tapes

By Richard L. Lyons Washington Post Staff Writer

The six new tapes the House Judiciary Committee has requested from the White House reportedly contain talks be-tween President Nixon and five former top aides accused in the Watergate scandal.

week, either side of" March following: 21, 1973. This was the date on H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, for-which Mr. Nixon said he was mer White House chief of first told of attempts to cover staff; John D. Ehrlichman, for-headquarters at the Watergate John N. Mitchell, former At- cover-up before then. complex. It was on this occasion, he said, that he stated taped conversations the com-A committee member said the conversations took place ment inquiry took place be"within a few days, less than a tween the President and the

up the break in of Democratic mer chief domestic adviser; knowledge of the Watergate torney General and director of Dean III, former counsel to the President.

Haldeman. Ehrlichman, Mitchell and Colson were in-Watergate trial and that dicted by a grand jury here last week on charges of trying to cover up the Watergate scandal. Dean, who cooperated with the investigation, pleaded guilty last October to a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. His sentencing has been deferred.

These tapes were not furhe had given Jaworski. The right on the part of the House committee refused to say yes-committee." terday whether any of these materials have been delivered.

versations showed that he had out and drag out.'

A chronology of events in the President's 1972 re-electhis period shows that during that while hush money for the burglars could be raised, it would be wrong.

The congressman said the the President's 1972 re-electing period shows that during the few days after March 21, United the few days af wrote his famous letter to U.S. District Court Chief Judge John J. Sirica, charging that higher-ups were involved.

The committee served notice at a Thursday meeting that it will issue a subpoena to compel production of the tapes if they are not turned over voluntarily. Senate Majo Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said not fur-yesterday that the White Special House should "make every bit These tapes were nished Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, and were not included in the President's offer to give the Think you have an overriding President's offer to give the an inquiry into impeachment, House committee all materials I think you have an overriding Manfield told rethat the White House reporters One reason for requesting stop standing on technicalities tapes of conversations before and "make the necessary date the critical March 21 date presumably would be to learn whether the President's conhaving it drag out and drag